Questions 25 – 32

Read the article about Daniel Johnson, a child artist. Choose the best answer (A, B or C) for each space.

The 11 year old artist

Daniel Johnson is an 11-year-old artist. Recently, one of his paintings (25) sold for £30,000. The painting shows a winter snow scene near his home in Scotland, where the young artist has (26) all his life. Daniel (27) been an artist since he first started painting scenes of nature on a family holiday at the age of 5. His abilities (28) quickly recognised by his parents and when his pictures were (29) to art experts, they agreed the boy had something special.

A local artist gave Daniel lessons and he learned fast, and got a lot of attention from the media. When his paintings go on sale, they (30) bought for very large amounts of money by people from places like the USA and South Africa. Daniel's parents (31) known for a long time that they need to make sure that he has a normal childhood. Daniel has always loved football, and has been a member of the school football team (32) several years.

(Ever wonder why your milk comes in an opaque jug instead of a glass milk bottle? Riboflavin also helps keep your nervous system and immune system working properly. So, if your diet is lacking in riboflavin, you may want to try adding in some of these fortified options. Photo Courtesy: Janos Mladonjczyk/EyeEm/Getty Images Studies have found that riboflavin can be destroyed by light, so if you store your food in a glass container, it may no longer contain the full health benefits of vitamin B2. From birth to the age of six months, infants should get about 0.3 mg of riboflavin per day. Additionally, a long-term riboflavin deficiency can lead to anemia. Daily Dosage Recommendations The recommended daily dosages for riboflavin vary based on both age and sex. And, when all else fails, it can be taken as a dietary supplement. Unused riboflavin passes out of the body in the urine. To ensure the highest level of riboflavin, store your foods (especially those mentioned above) in opaque containers and keep them well away from any light source. Otherwise, no side effects have been linked with excess riboflavin intake. The Food and Nutrition Board established an upper limit for riboflavin intake. Some medications can affect how your body reacts to, absorbs, or breaks down any riboflavin you consume. A drug called probenecid, which is used to treat gout, can increase the amount of riboflavin in your body, while certain medications taken by folks with depression can decrease riboflavin levels. Because meat and dairy products provide most of our riboflavin intake, vegans and vegetarians who avoid dairy products might need to take a supplement. Those who are pregnant or breastfeeding might also decide to take a supplement to meet the additional needs of the fetus or infant. If you are supplementing your intake, keep in mind that the recommended daily allowance for riboflavin is 1.1 mg for women and 1.3 mg for men. 1 C 6 1

Vitamin B2, saved as Riboflavin, is one of those groups. Supplements of the B2 or B vitamin complex generally provide 1.3 mg / day, which guarantees that 100% of the daily requirement is fulfilled. Links of AltoO: more of Sentomfind.com for women, the recommendation is 1 mg / day from from 14 to 18, and then 1.1 mg / day after 19 years. But, to begin with, the riboflavin, along with the other B vitamins, is located in a wide range of food, which include: lean beef, pork and corner (rigger and liver) Eggsnuts and LeguMoSmilk and other products Lacteos with vegetables of lacteosmushroomsMushroomsmany Bread, cereals and pasta are fortified with extra riboflavin, and some enriched flours have higher levels of vitamin B2. Here you have your response! If you eat a varied and healthy diet of lean meats, many vegetables, nuts, legumes and low-fat wheat products, you probably will not need to take a riboflavin supplement. When consuming Riboflavin regularly, you can maintain healthy hair and skin and contribute to the health of your eyes and herd. In addition, one of the most only functions of riboflavin is that it combats some of the effects of aging. In particular, the memory. Riboflavina is involved in the production of our DNA, and works to support our important nerve and blood cells. From 14 years, men should consume about 1, 3 mg / day. From the ages of one to three years, the children must consume approximately 0.5 mg of vitamin B2 to day; from detraction of four to eight years, approximately 0.6 mg / day; and from the ages of nine to 13, approximately 0.9 mg / day. Lance children reach 14 years, their recommended doses vary according to sex. We are deepening in case this vitamin is so important for the health of one. We all need vitamin B2, or riboflavin, to keep our Bodies run correctly. It is also involved in the necessary breakdown of fats and certain medications. In other cases, vitamin B2 is added to certain products. products.
